Owner Suspects Arson In $30,000 Shop Fire

Two fires occurred in Mokena Sunday night (Dec. 4) and at the second one, in which the loss was set at about $30,000, fire departments from Frankfort and New Lenox were called out to aid Mokena firemen.

This second fire, which was discovered shortly after 11 o'clock, destroyed a barn, 130 by 30 feet, that was filled with wood working tools and supplies. The owner, Frank Pretzel, of Wolf road, said he believed the fire had been set. He disconnected the electric wiring several months ago and there was no heating unit in operation.

Pretzel, who estimated the loss at $30,000, said that blaze appeared to extend the entire length of the structure. He had no insurance on the building or contents.

He said he had gone to bed and was awakened by his wife. A neighbor called to report the fire.

Mrs. Pretzel said that she had gone to bed about 15 minutes previously and after turning out the light looked out of a west window. She could see a part of the barn from that window and remembered that when she looked out there was no indication of fire. Yet when the neighbor called, the building was blazing.

Some weeks ago, according to Mr. Pretzel, his shop was broken into and some tools and other items taken. The structure once served as a dairy barn when it was the late Crammuel Marti farm.

The other alarm was turned in about 6:30 by neighbors of the Raymond LaFevre, 108 Glennell, in Glennell Heights just west of Mokena. The family was away at the time and neighbors saw smoke coming from the building. There was little blaze but the fire apparently had smoldered for sufficient time to generate heat enough to melt a wall clock in the kitchen.

The fire ate up the walls and into the attic. There was damage to furnishings and there was also water damage. The family has lived there but a short time.

Find Red Snoopers Near Orland Park Nike Base

Two Reds from the Hungarian legation at Washington were caught snooping around the Nike base at Orland Park last week by state police but when the pair claimed diplomatic immunity police were forced to let them go with a warning.

According to the state department the two Communists had been given permission to make a trip to the mid-west but not to go poking about military installations.

The two Reds were identified as Lt. Col. Laszlo Beres, assistant military and air attaché of the legation, and Karoly Hackler, legation counselor.

They were first spotted by Corp. William O'Brien, of Blue Island headquarters of the state police. He noticed the erratic manner in which the car was being driven. It would be driven fast, then slow, and sometimes parked on the perimeter of the Nike base.

The car was parked on the shoulder of U.S. 45 just south of 151st street, when O'Brien first took notice of it. That was a few minutes after noon on Wednesday (Nov. 30). Ten minutes later O'Brien found the car parked closer to the base, at 151st and West ave., in Orland Park. The base is on 153rd st.

O'Brien radioed headquarters and Lt. Robert Georgantas sent Trooper Chester Witkowski to the scene. Witkowski spotted the car traveling between 20 and 30 miles an hour in a 65 m.p.h. zone on U.S. 45.

When Witkowski curbed the Hungarians car he said Beres appeared somewhat agitated and demanded to know, "What is this about?"

Beres, who was driving, produced a driver's license and identification and claimed diplomatic immunity. Because of that Witkowski could only issue a warning ticket and the two Hungarians were free to depart.

The Orland Nike base is one of a chain of such installations ringing the Chicago area and are intended to repulse a possible aerial attack.

An authoritative source at Washington was quoted as saying that Red agents have been known to record impulses from radar and fire direction control centers of missile bases.

Will Ask Bids On Frankfort P.O. In January

It will be about mid-January before bids will be sought for the new postoffice to be built at Frankfort, according to Postmaster LeRoy Mager.

It will be about six weeks, he is quoted as saying, before bidding, forms, specifications and other data will be available to prospective bidders. At that time the postoffice department will advertise for bids.

Option for the site, now held by Postmaster and Mrs. Mager, will be transferred to the successful bidder who will then purchase the land, erect the building according to the department's specifications, and lease it to the government.

Such leases general run for 20 years with a renewal clause in the agreement.

Mokena's new postoffice, as well as the one at Orland Park, was built under those conditions and so will be the one scheduled for New Lenox.

The site for the Frankfort postoffice is located at the southwest corner of Oak and Nebraska streets and is 75 by 132 feet in area. The office will contain approximately 2,100 square feet of interior floor space. There will be a loading platform and adequate parking and truck maneuvering areas, Mr. Mager said.

The postmaster and his wife have an option on the site, obtained from Mrs. Margaret Koerner.

No word has been received as yet by Postmaster Lester Brown at New Lenox relative to plans for the new postoffice there. The proposed site is the third lot south of the bowling alley on S. Cedar road. It is owned by the Frick Real Estate Agency which has given the postoffice department an option on the property. Such option would be turned over to the successful bidder.

One of the determining factors in the bidding, it was pointed out, is the rent to be charged. The postoffice department has been using this commercial leasing program to obtain needed postal buildings for quite a number of years now and it is said to be quite successful.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Betty Liston

Mrs. Betty Jane Liston, nee Knupp, 37, of 195th st., Mokena, died suddenly Monday, apparently of a heart attack suffered while she was at a friend's home for luncheon.

Mrs. Liston had intended to go to a Chicago hospital this weekend for a check-up. She is said to have been suffering from a heart condition for some time.

On Sunday night it was Mrs. Liston who telephoned the Frank Pretzel home after 11 o'clock to inform them their barn was on fire and she apparently was in good spirits when she arrived at the home of Mrs. Robert Peterson, S. Woodland Circle, for lunch Monday noon.

Shortly after her arrival, however, she suffered an attack and Mrs. Peterson called Mokena fire department for an inhalator. By the time firemen reached the house, however, Mrs. Liston had died.

She was born in Cumberland county, (Ill.) Dec. 7, 1922 and had been a resident of Mokena since 1941. She was married to Frank M. Liston on Oct. 15, this year.

Plan Townhouse Project At Frankfort, To Cost $800,000

A program calling for expenditure of more than three quarters of a million dollars on multiple family dwellings to be erected in Connecticut Hills, a Frankfort subdivision developed by the McIntosh company, has been announced by Phillip Gross & Associates, Inc.

Contracts for the project outline spending of approximately $800,000 and call for construction of seven buildings of the townhouse type.

Each building will have six living units. Each unit will contain 1,040 square feet and consist of six rooms, three of them bedrooms, and have a ground second floor but no basement. Each unit will have a separate entrance so in appearance the building resembles a row of houses, joined together.

The structures will be of brick veneer and will have warm air, gas heat. Each apartment also will be air conditioned and each will have a garage at the rear.

A spokesman for the company said the buildings would be of modern design with considerable use of glass. Glass is to run from the first floor to practically the roof.

The rent will be $121 a month and each tenant will pay for his own utilities, according to a spokesman for the developer.

These houses are to be built well within the subdivision north of U. S. 30, it was said, and will face north.

According to Phillips Gross and Associates work on the project is scheduled to begin about Jan. 1, weather permitting, and they expect to have the first building completed in eight weeks.

McIntosh company is not a building firm. It has developed the subdivision, laying out streets and installing water and sewer mains. Ni-Gas has also installed mains. All this work is said to be completed. The lots are sold to builders or individuals.

A shopping area is planned along U.S. 30.

Plan Census To Determine School Needs At Frankfort

Frankfort school board members will conduct a census of all pre-school children in the district. The area was divided into sections, at the board's regular meeting Monday evening, Dec. 4, and board members were selected to take charge of the survey.

The purpose of the census is to arrive at an approximate number of children to be served by the district in the next few years. This, according to the board, is the first step necessary in determining if a new school building is needed. Should the census indicate the need for a new school building, the same census figures will serve to establish the grades to be included which will then be the major consideration in determining the size and type of building.

A form with the following questions is being prepared for use in the census: Names of parents; address; father's occupation; number of children from infancy to six years; ages and dates of birth.

The group met Nov. 30 with two consultants recommended by the state department of public instruction, both of whom are experts in the field of school design and construction. At this meeting the board concluded that much preparatory work must be done before the size, type, or even the necessity of a new school, can be established.

Leonard Patterson informed the board that many rumors are being circulated about the size, type of building, and many other details that the board has never even considered, or have changed their thinking on since some of the possible details were last discussed. He urged the members to keep the public informed of the progress of this planning but to stress that the whole project is in the planning stages and that estimated pre-school population and location of new homes will have the greatest reflection on the board's final decision.

He prepared the following release, which was accepted by the board so the people may know of the board's action on the matter to this date:

"The Frankfort school board met on Wednesday, Nov. 30 with two consultants from the office of the state superintendent of schools, Earl Hudson and Ben Sassen both of whom have wide experience in school layout design and construction. The board felt it needed expert guidance in type of building, size and for what purpose it should be used.

"The present school building is over crowded with an enrollment of 268. One classroom has 42 pupils instructed by one teacher. Lack of playground facilities makes impractical the building of additions to the present school. Building trends, population increases, expansion number of children for the Frankfort elementary school. "A site consisting of about eight acres was given the village by the development company of Connecticut Hills. This land was designated to be used as a school and playground area, and is located in the northeast corner of the subdivision. The site is high, well drained slopes gently to the south and is bounded on the North by a Township gravel road. The board is well pleased with the site and had considered building a complete grade 1 through 8 school when needed.

"The consultants added new problems to old:

"(1) Both men agreed that the board should project a population trend several years in the future; in other words guess how large a building we would need ten years from now.

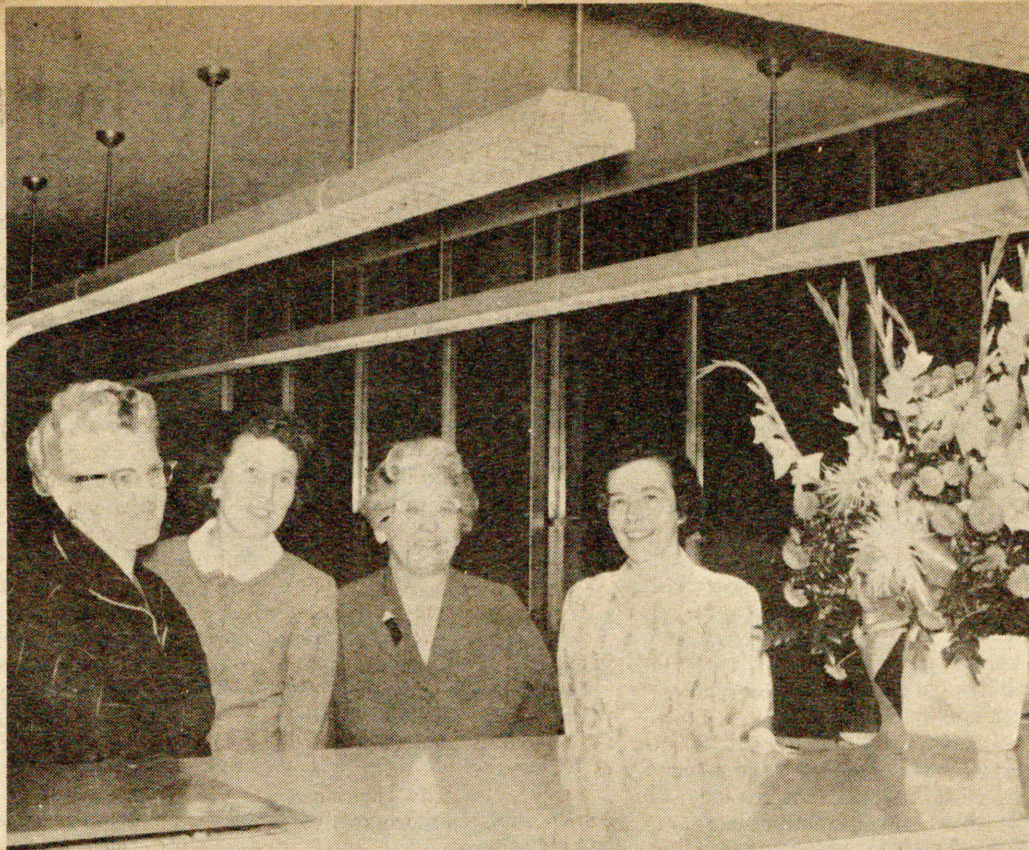

"(2) Determine through a census the exact number of children in the school district who will be enrolled during the next five years.

"(3) Curriculum should be planned before a building is planned.

"More consultants will be consulted in the near future." A community singing in the school playground on the evening of Dec. 23 will be co-sponsored by the school board and the Frankfort Civic Forum. Plans call for organized choirs from the various churches and civic groups and the public in general to join in an hour of singing. Children are asked to bring cranberries and other little food items to place on a Christmas tree so the birds may have a pleasant holiday too.

Perry Friedman, school band instructor, asked the board to release funds collected at the district band meet last spring, so the band can take a field trip to Elkhart, Indiana where they will visit a band instrument manufacturing plant. The secretary was instructed to look into the matter and if the board has such funds, they should be released to the Band Boosters for the trip.

The American Legion Auxiliary was granted permission to hold its annual card-collection day at the school. Children bring candy to the school which is later distributed to veteran hospitals by the auxiliary.

NEW POSTOFFICE at Mokena pleases the clerical force that must work there. The old office was dark and so small that working there was becoming more and more difficult with the increase in mail service in Mokena. From the left, Elizabeth Howell, Dorothy Benson, clerk, Postmaster Margaret O'Brien, and Eileen Hauser, a clerk.

Let Contract To Improve Kansas St.

Contracts have been let for the improvement of the east end of Kansas street by the Frankfort village board and work was expected to begin this week on excavating and grading.

Because a part of the work is to be paid for out of state motor fuel tax and part from village funds because it is not eligible for MFT aid, it was necessary to take a bid on each phase of the work.

Motor fuel tax money is paying for the improvement to the 60-foot middle or traffic way of the street. The village has to pay for providing parking ways along the side of the street, plus sidewalks, one curb and gutter storm sewers. The state is taking care of one curbing. Work to be done now will be of the kind unaffected by cold weather, it was stated.

Brown & Lambrecht was low bidder -- by $14 -- on the MFT section of the work with a figure of $4,425. Trygg Paving Co. of Joliet, was low on the remainder of the job, $3,552. The combination of these two bids, $7,977 was approximately $190 lower than any combined bid for the two jobs, Village Engineer Robert Hamilton told the board. There were two other bidders, Baumgartner & Co., Frankfort, and Loring Co., of Joliet.

The stretch of street to be improved is approximately 200 feet long, extending from Ash to White street, and is 110 feet wide. It will be blacktopped. A house formerly occupied a considerable portion of the newly opened street. It was purchased by the village after condemnations proceedings had been launched in the Will County circuit court.

This improvement plus extension of improvement in street lighting will give the business section of Frankfort a new look.

New Lenox Twp. Now 4th In County Population

Latest census figures for Will County show the population to be 191,617, which marks a substantial growth in the past 20 years but DuPage with its current population of 315,459 shows one of the greatest increases recorded. Kane has some 208,000.

Township populations in Will county show Crete in third with a count of 11,737, with 3,463 in the village of Crete and 4,292 in the Will County end of Steger.

Joliet township with a population of 94,116 is tops and Lockport, with a population of 26,882 is second in size. There is quite a gap between the second and third townships in the matter of population. The Joliet city population is 66,483. Lockport is also second among the incorporated areas with a population of 7,560. The new city of Crest Hill has a count of 5,887. Hampton Park, which is carried as a part of Romeoville, has helped swell the total for DuPage population is 4,725 of which 3,470 are listed as residents of Romeoville.

New Lenox township with a population of 6,232 is fifth in the county, Plainfield being the fourth township with a population of 6,655. The village of New Lenox has a count of 1,750 but there are said to be enough persons residing on the outskirts of what now comprises the corporate limits to double that figure.

Frankfort township has a population carried at 5,784. The village of Frankfort accounts for 1,135 of this number while the population for Mokena is 1,332. As in the case of New Lenox enough persons reside about the boundaries of Mokena to double its population, it was said.

Green Garden, without an incorporated area, has a population of 678; Homer 4,078; Manhattan, 1,823. The village of Manhattan has a count of 1,117.

Marley, of course, is unincorporated and the population there is included in that of New Lenox township.

Other township populations: Channahon, 2,125; Custer, 651; Florence, 629; Joliet, 1,461; Monee, 5,131; Peotone, 2,392; Reed, 2,192; Troy, 2,679; Washington, 2,347; Wesley, 1,741; Wheatland, 1,023; Will, 174; Wilmington, 5,132; Wilton, 680.

The city of Wilmington has a population of 4,210. Incidentally there are now five communities in Will county that are incorporated as cities — Joliet, Lockport, Wilmington, Braidwood and the newcomer, Crest Hill.

It's Easy To Raise A Delinquent

Want to raise a juvenile delinquent? It's easy, according to Frank Brabant, described as a national authority and speaker on the subject.

In some of his talks here and there about the country he tells how easy it is.

Here are some of his suggestions:

"Never deny him anything. From infancy on be sure to give a child everything he wants."

"Don't give him any spiritual training."

"Don't use the word 'wrong' in any conversations with the child. That might give him a guilt complex."

"Don't let him do anything for himself; to do so might teach him something about responsibility. This, of course, must be avoided at all costs."

"Don't insist -- on fact don't even ask -- that he earn any money of his own. It may be quite a sacrifice and you may have to go without a lot of things for yourselves but be sure and give him all the spending money he wants. Your efforts will be unappreciated but you can take some comfort out of the thought of what a selfish little monster you are raising."

"Satisfy his every craving and sensual desire -- after all, denial may frustrate him."

"Always take his part against neighbors, teachers, police. If he gets into real trouble you can always apologise by saying, 'I never could do anything with him.'"

These rules are easy to follow. And from the upsurge of juvenile delinquency in the land a lot of parents are following them.

"You, too, can produce a delinquent, simply and easily," says Mr. Brabant to his audiences, and then he warns them:

"Prepare for a life of grief. You will be apt to have it."

HOME FLUORIDATION SERVICE

New Lenox, Ill. HUXley 5-4871

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

It appears that the rules are changing.

There was a time when a young man was sent out into the world with the oft repeated advice to be frugal, save his money, work hard -- around the clock if necessary -- if he would have success.

That a few followers of such advice did attain wealth made it a sure fire recipe. No attention was paid to those who fell by the wayside -- the coronaries, the TB cases, the worn out eyes or the cripples.

It wasn't cricket to refer to such things as the probable results of following too closely the rules laid down for success. Also frowned upon was public utterance relative to such shortcuts as marrying the boss' daughter, being lucky or succumbing to the lures of larceny -- as legal as possible of course.

Now the rules are different -- at least they are according to the magazine ad writers. It's not who or what you know that enables one to achieve success today -- it's what you wear, drink or eat.

A Ph. D. and a dynamic personality will get you nowhere unless you wear the right kind of clothes, the right kind of shoes and the right kind of hat.

The right kind of hat seems to be the keystone for the whole deal, if one is to believe the ads appearing in some of the slick paper publications.

There is one particular brand of head covering designed especially for who are coming up: there is another kind for the man who has arrived. The ads don't go into any details as to just where he arrived, the time of arrival or departure. He is a man who has arrived and one is left with the impression that he couldn't have made it without the inspiration given by this hat.

The young man climbing up the mountain in a snowstorm and bearing a banner with the strange device Excelsior is outmoded now. It is the hat that keeps him climbing. And for the man who owns the town there is still another type of headgear.

Naturally clothes are an important adjunct to the hat. A man striding purposefully down the street, carrying a brief case, would look a little out of place wearing a hat and underwear even though both items are what the successful man wears.

It would appear, according to the ads, that the only way a man can attain success without wearing a hat is to drink certain brands of whiskey.

The beer drinkers of the ad world are getting there but they look to be vice presidents or junior executives and still have a way to go before arriving at the point where they are pictured holding a glass of frog big enough to floor a thirsty stevedore.

Psychologically these pictures are very effective. Naturally, one figures that the bird is not going to attempt a flight with but one wing and if this big jolt of red-eye he is cradling is his second charge -- or possibly his third or fourth -- and there he sits, steady as a rock, faultlessly groomed, one has to admit that he is a success -- as a drinker anyway.

The successes who eat are for the most part sports champions. Occasionally they tuck away a $9 steak but for the most part they lean to cereal products. Most of them make no bones about it; they freely admit that if it weren't for their intake of tasty, energy giving, flakes they couldn't pitch hit, run, or be better than a Sunday hacker at golf.

One also learns from their testimonials that success in sports also comes from smoking certain cigarettes or shaving with a specific razor. It would seem that the secret of this razor is the blade that is so sharp the athlete expends little muscle in shearing his whiskers and thus has more energy to devote to sports.

To sum it up -- eat, drink, be merry and wear a hat, and you can't miss. Success will be yours.

There is just one thing and you will have to figure this one out for yourselves. -- Just what is success?

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

It is rather well agreed by most of the leading investment advisory services, that the present recession is likely to be mild and with a comparatively short period of effect.

Personal income increases and retail sales statistics do not confirm a pessimistic attitude toward our general business picture.

Analysis of market action have noted that there seems no special pressure to liquidate on the part of owners of stocks. It is noted that when the market is in a down trend, the total volume declines and that volume picks up in an arising market. A New York Stock Exchange volume of less than three million shares daily is considered very small. Usually only the professionals relate their market judgments to market prices and volume of trading. The professionals relate these two factors carefully.

A few of the investment services are predicting substantial increases in general business tempo and for the near term.

We hear much of the gold loss to this country due to demands stemming largely from the fact that we have been selling less than we have been buying abroad and in addition have been sending foreign "aid" funds abroad.

This condition has brought an unfavorable "balance of payments" against the dollar. For centuries gold has been the medium by which "balance of payments" are settled internationally. Gold is the only medium of exchange that has universal acceptance. Countries which have suffered thru periods of inflation can hardly be criticized for suspecting any other medium the moment there is any question of the safety of a particular currency.

The U. S. A. has become the banker of the world and the dollar the basis on which other currencies are valued. The gold deposits in this country are very large and depositors have trusted us as we have great respect for the sanctity of a contractual obligation. They feel we will not confiscate the gold which is not ours but merely in our safe keeping.

The change of ownership of gold stored in this country is largely changed by mere changing of ownership records rather than physical shipment of the gold itself. Of itself, this is sincere flattery of our commercial honesty which, historically, has not always been trusted or realized.

The mechanics of balance of payments have been refined so that central banks of western world now work together closely. The U. S. A. in its aid program has been very successful and now most of these countries in Europe, are enjoying industrial prosperity. The cold war effort to make this area safe has paid off very well and a severe defeat for Russia as these people are now enjoying far greater living standards than Communistic countries. This, of course, was the intended objective.

Now our problem is to induce these prosperous nations to bear a fair share of cold war costs in other countries. The logic of this is known and completely understood by the leaders of these countries. The problem is how to sell this to their people and avoid political suicide for themselves.

The requirements of an economic war which has been going on since World War II are hard to sell to people without knowledge of economics and geography, but leaders of the business world feel it can be done.

The Upper Room

Read Isaiah 61:1-3; Matthew 1:18-23

"He will come to Zion as Redeemer." (Isaiah 59:20, RSV.) From Isaiah to Joel -- a span of several centuries -- voices of the prophets were raised with one accord in the interest of Israel's deliverance. At first, as the chosen people of God, Israel was to bring the nations to Him. Then, as the experience of the centuries mounted, it became clear that Israel herself was in need of deliverance from the enemies and sins.

Gradually, persistently, the idea and feeling grew that Israel's deliverance would come in the form of a Messiah. He would save His people and raise their hopes as a nation.

Many offices were ascribed to Him by the prophets: Shepherd, King, Man of Peace, Suffering Servant.

None fitted Him so well and came so near to His real office as that of Redeemer. The angel visitant shocked Joseph into rapt attention with the words, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." Today, if we will listen and heed, He becomes our Saviour.

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the coming of Jesus. We are glad He came as a little child, thus teaching us humility and trust. We rejoice that He came as the Saviour, to teach us the way of forgiveness. Help us to accept Him in sincerity. We pray in His name. Amen.

Hints For Homeowners

By: JAMES FIZZELL, ASS'T. FARM ADVISER

The stately Amaryllis provides a bright accent for the flower window in late winter. That is a time of the year when bright splashes of color are especially appreciated. The scant foliage and short blooming season are more than compensated for by the bright color of the 6 to 8 inch flowers, and by the easy culture.

Amaryllis bulbs should be plump and free of rot or mold and at least 2-1/2 inches in diameter for good flowering the first year.

Plant the bulb in a pot several inches larger in diameter than the bulb itself. Any good potting soil is satisfactory. However, the pot must be provided with good drainage. A layer of coarse gravel in the bottom of the pot is satisfactory.

The bulb should be planted so that the upper 1/2 to 2/3 of the bulb is above the soil.

Be sure to have the soil level about 3/4 of an inch below the rim of the pot.

Keep the soil on the dry side until growth appears and keep the bulb in a cool shaded place during this period.

When growth begins, move the plant to a warm sunny window and water more freely.

Insects and diseases are seldom a problem on these plants. If the bulbs do become diseased, it is wise to discard them immediately.

Magnificent flowers, brightly colored and supported on a tall stem will be the reward for proper care, and only about 8 weeks after potting.

Garden lillies, so delightful but often so expensive, can be easily propagated in the home without special training or complicated equipment. Where small bulbs are produced naturally in the leaf axils of the flower stalk, as in the Tiger Lily they can be detached when mature and ready to fall, soaked in water for 48 hours, and planted in shallow flats. If protected from drying in summer and freezing in winter, they should produce a supply of bulbs.

In lillies that bloom in early summer, the bloom stalk may be pulled out of the growing bulb with a twisting upward pull after blooming and laid horizontally in a bed of moist sand. If the sand is kept moist, small bulbs will form along the stem at every node. These can then be grown to flowering size. Late blooming lillies will not have time to develop bulbs by this method out of doors, but they may be handled in the same way indoors.

Another sure-fire way to produce bulblets is by the process known as scaling. In this method a large bulb is pulled apart scale by scale. Care should be taken to get all of the scale because the important part is where it has been attached to the base of the bulb.

Put the detached scales between layers of moist sphagnum moss in a mason-type fruit jar. Wet the sphagnum moss thoroughly, and then wring as dry as possible with the bare hands. This will remove most of the excess moisture but will still leave the moss moist enough to keep a good humidity in the jar. Place a layer of sphagnum in the bottom of the jar, cover with a layer of lily scales, then a layer of sphagnum, etc., until the jar is filled. Leave the jar open for 48 hours; then put the cover on without an air-tight seal. If the jar is kept at ordinary house temperature, small bulbs will form at the base of the old bulb scales. These should be left in the jar for several months, then planted shallowly in a flat of light soil and grown for a full year before being placed in the garden.

While this may seem a long time to wait, a single mature bulb will produce from thirty to fifty bulblets. By this means, we can all afford even the very fine expensive lillies for our own garden. The bulbs will usually bloom in 3 years.

Toys Can Be Dangerous, Says Sight Saving Group

What's in a toy? "It's all in the way you look at it, so LOOK CAREFULLY," Frank F. Fowle, president of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, urges Christmas toy shoppers.

Fowle stated that the number of toy eye injuries, especially among young children, usually shows an increase during the days immediately following Christmas. "Many of these accidents, some costing the eyesight of youngsters, can be prevented if parents and other adults who choose children's toys will remember that if they buy right they can save sight," the Illinois Society president emphasized.

In the hope of learning more about the problem, and as a first step toward a comprehensive public education and toy safety project, the Illinois Society will begin a toy eye injury study for the first time this Christmas, enlisting the assistance of hospitals and physicians thru Illinois. Thru it the agency hopes to learn more about the types of playthings and circumstances surrounding these injuries.

But Fowle pointed out that studies alone will not solve the problem. "They can only give us basic information from which to work," he said. "Parents and others responsible for the safety and eyesight of children must be alert to the need for careful thought in selecting proper toys and see that children observe the rules for safe play."

As a guide to toy shoppers the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness emphasizes the following points: Toys should be sturdy constructed, preferably of single unit, unbreakable material, if for a very young child. There should be no small parts which can be pulled or broken off to expose sharp corners or points. All protective coverings should be securely attached. If plastics are used, they should be the non-breakable variety. Some plastics are as dangerous as glass when broken. The facial features in dolls and animals should be sewn or securely glued - not attached with sharp pins or tacks. Rocket and projectile toys should be checked to see what sort of objects they eject and at what speed. Any that involve sharp darts, arrows, etc., should immediately be ruled out as safe playthings as they could cause serious eye damage.

If, in spite of all precautions, an eye injury occurs, the Society warns that external appearances or absence of pain do not rule out damage to the eye. In case of any eye injury, a physician should be consulted immediately. Meanwhile, parents should protect the eye to avoid further complications and to prevent the child from rubbing it. They should not attempt to treat the injury themselves.

Receives $2 Unpaid $2 Balance Zero

The State of Illinois has received an unexpected $2 from an anonymous donor, but this served only to bring realization that it is still out $2, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said today.

Two one dollar bills were received with the note, "Attd. find 2.00 for 4 cars I sold for junk I understand that we had to get permit to junk them and the price is fifty cents each." The typewritten signature was "A Retired Rail roader." The envelope was postmarked Vincennes, Indiana.

So while the State is ahead $2 because of the conscience money, it is still behind $2 because the junking certificate fee is $1 per car, Secretary Carpenter said.

"Go Slow, On Ice And Snow"

The "ordinary" road hazards faced by drivers become "extraordinary" in winter because of three major factors, it was declared today, by Robert A. Campbell, state safety coordinator of the Illinois department of public safety.

"These are reduced visibility, inadequate traction and temperature changes," he advised.

Seeing danger in time to avoid it, and being seen by fellow motorists in time to avoid collision, requires proper attention on the part of the driver and proper use of vital equipment helpful in assuring good visibility, Campbell pointed out.

"Windshield wipers must be functioning well to clear the windshield of rain, sleet or snow," he warned. "The rubber in the blades should be live, not dead, and the arm pressure on the blades against the glass should be strong enough to clear without smear and without riding over snow. One ounce of arm pressure for each inch of blade length is recommended."

He added, "Headlights must be up to par and properly aimed to light the way ahead at night, and they should be depressed for approaching cars. Headlamps may even have to be used in daylight when extremely bad weather conditions prevail - such as fog, blinding rain, intense snowfall or sleet."

The defroster should be functioning in tip-top order, he added. This is valuable aid to vision. Frequent checking of the rear-view mirror is a smart "rear guard action" which will alert the driver to traffic conditions behind.

"When pavement is made slippery by rain, or particularly by snow or ice, the gripping ability of tires is adversely affected," the official pointed out.

This hazard can be overcome by reduction of car speed, avoiding quick starts and sudden stops, having tires of good tread, using brakes properly adjusted and applied with a fast pumping action. Always carry reinforced tire chains, ready for use when needed for severe snow and ice conditions.

"National Safety Council research at Clintonville, Wis., winter after winter, has consistently pointed up the fact that while snow treads are somewhat better than regular tires on winter surfaces, they do not equal or replace tire chains for severe conditions. The use of reinforced chains is strongly recommended by test drivers and safety engineers when needed for heavy snow or on icy hills," Campbell declared.

Even with the aid of snow tires, or the greater help of tire chains, drivers should exercise precautions by reducing speed and increasing following distances, he added.

In addition to being on guard against the dangers posed by reduced visibility and inadequate traction, the wintertime driver must also reckon with temperature changes, the coordinator observed.

"Temperature determines the 'wetness' of ice," he asserted. "Ice near the melting stage is much more slippery than 'dry' ice existing when temperatures are near zero. Ice which has thawed during the day can turn to ice again after the sun goes down. With high snow banks and deeply frozen ground preventing rapid drainage, ice may be encountered in some areas for days on end. Ice should be anticipated in sheltered areas of roadway, on bridges, under viaducts, on the inside of some curves and at the foot of some hills. One slip could lead to a dangerous skid, and the skidding could have tragic results."

Salvation Army Kettle Drive Now In Progress

The Salvation Army have their Christmas kettle stands placed on various streets and corners in Chicago, Joliet, and other suburbs now thru Christmas Eve. The nickels, dimes, quarters and dollars dropped in the little red Christmas kettles finance the entire holiday program for the organization and also provide part of the money needed to carry on the year round social services for the needy of every race and religion.

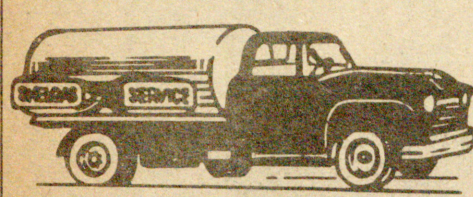

Funds for the veterans' Christmas parties and other year round activities are raised by members of the Juniors by members of the Junior Association of Commerce and Industry when they "borrow" the Army's regular Christmas kettle locations. The Jaycee volunteers will take over for the Army for two-hour periods on Dec. 15 and 16 in the loop and neighborhood shopping centers.

The first Salvation Army kettle was a huge ship's cauldron, placed on the ferry dock of San Francisco 66 years ago this fall and was filled with coins by the friendly ferry passengers. The money enabled the Army to feed the families of unemployed dock workers. During the depression of 1897, the Salvation Army in Boston faced a serious feeding problem. More than 100,000 families were hungry and without work. In this emergency, the kettle idea was again utilized. Here for the first time, small kettles swinging from wooden tripods made their appearance on street corners. The public responded at the rate of $7 an hour and the Christmas dinners were provided for everyone in need. From Boston, the kettles spread all over the United States to become a familiar part of the Christmas scene.

Elliott Area Chairman For Advent Cards

F. Noel Elliott, New Lenox druggist, has been appointed sales chairman of the Joliet area for the National Epilepsy League's "Little Christmas Town" Advent greeting calendar.

Money raised from the sale of the charming, imported Advent greetings, sole fund raising device of the league, is used to aid some 1,700,000 victims of epilepsy in the U. S.

The joyous 27-inch long Advent card depicts a storybook village in a winter wonderland, with doors and windows numbered from Dec. 1 to 25. Each door or window folds back to reveal another holiday surprise. A verse for each day of the Advent, accompanies the card. When all the doors and windows are opened and the card is set before a light, the entire village seems to glow from within.

Some two hundred women attended the Christmas decorating show last Tuesday evening in the Mokena public school. It was sponsored by the Mokena Womens Club.

Robert Watkins, well known area florist, demonstrated to a very attentive audience for nearly two hours. His main objective was in showing how land attended the horse show at the Amphitheatre in Chicago last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert M. Larson entertained the following dinner guests Sunday evening, the Rev. James Fulmer of Homewood and Charles Kelch of Mokena; later the Herman Barleworts visited in the home, attractive arrangements can be made at nominal cost and with material found around the home.

Starting with decorating the front door he showed various ways of using the lower discarded branches of Christmas trees to be made into wreaths.

With the addition of bows and cluster of balls an inexpensive decoration was achieved.

Entering the home, attractive arrangements were suggested for each room thru the use of styrofoam bases, imagination and material around the home such as ribbons, cellophane reindeer, Santas, small flower pots, coffee cans, to name a few.

Mrs. Watkins showed how to make poinsettia flowers out of ribbon and tied in the center with holly berries for package adornments.

For those who wish to have mistletoe prominently located an arrangement can be made by inserting boxwood greenery into a styrofoam ball completely covering it. The greens are then sprayed and glitter sprinkled on it. Ribbon is attached to

Frontier Towns, Homesteads Built Around Springs

BY ROBERTS MANN
Conservation Editor

Cook Co. Forest Preserve Springs — cold, clear springs bubbling from hillsides or welling up from secret depths—played an important part in the settlement of these United States from the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia and the Great Smokies in Tennessee to the Ozarks of Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas. Always more plentiful in mountainous and hilly country, they were much more numerous and vigorous in those days before the great forests were cut over or destroyed. Then, most of the rainfall was retained and sank into the ground. Springs are fed by ground water.

An early settler, penetrating a frontier wilderness with his family and their meager possessions, travelled and searched until he found a suitable homestead. That was determined not only by the quality of the land and what grew on it but also by the availability of water and timber. Also some preferred to dig a well, fearful that the dreaded milk sickness and "the shakes" orague might lurk in spring water, a favorite location was near some good "strong" spring.

Usually, on such a homestead, after completing a cabin and a makeshift barn, a small shelter was built over the spring. That was the "spring house". In time it became a masonry structure with basins thru which the water flowed. Here the milk cooled, cream was skimmed, and butter, cheese, eggs, meat and other perishables were stored. They had no refrigerators then. In a way, the family life was centered around it.

Those gifts of pure water from the earth were so important that many frontier towns were planned and built around or near "a large spring of excellent water." In 1833, after the capital of Indiana had been transferred from Corydon to a new site named Indianapolis, a town ordinance declared it "unlawful for any person to wash himself, or any other thing, to water stock, or to commit any act of indecency in or near the public spring." Brookville, Indiana, built a pipeline of hollowed-out sycamore saplings to Amos Butler's spring in 1820. Today, although most of their springs are long gone, on the maps of several states you will find many towns named "something - or - other Springs".

Here in Cook County the village of Willow Springs got its name from the fact that there used to be a fine spring, with a huge willow beside it, downhill from Archer Ave. and near the old I & M Canal. What used to be the largest spring in the Chicago region — Mammoth Springs — is on Spring Road just west of Salt Creek and south of Roosevelt Road. Its flow is now a mere trickle but Elmhurst, three miles north, secured its entire water supply from this spring, thru a wooden pipeline, until the population exceeded 5,000.

Most of the springs in Chicagoland are, or were, in stream valleys: generally in outcrops of gravel, sand, or very sandy clay; also some issue at the base of limestone cliffs and quarry walls. Those at Carlson Springs Woods, Potawatomi Woods and Black Partridge Woods are still flowing although three of six in the latter preserve become mere seeps during froths. There is a fine one along the Bluff Road leading to it. Those at McClaughry Springs Woods and Swallow Cliff Woods have ceased to flow, possibly due to the heavy use of explosives when the Calumet Sag canal was widened.

Springs may flow and springs may go but hope springs eternal in the human.

News From Springfield

All 102 Illinois counties are now operating under the state's compulsory test and slaughter plan for the elimination of brucellosis in cattle. (This is one of the causes of undulant fever in people. Brucellosis also affects swine, sheep and goats.)

Sixty-seven counties have been certified as modified-brucellosis-free, which means that infection is less than one per cent.

Director Stillman J. Stanard of the Illinois Department of Agriculture said that Vermont is the only state that has a complete "free" status and that Illinois and Wisconsin are the only two with a "modified" certification.

The compulsory certification and test program was inaugurated in Illinois in 1957 following amendment of the state Bovine Brucellosis Control Law, he said.

A model of the new Illinois State Museum to be erected in Springfield was displayed by Gov. Stratton at a press conference last week.

The exterior is of the monumental type, in keeping with the surrounding group of buildings in the Capitol area. It will be almost windowless, a necessity in the preservation of the priceless exhibits to be displayed. The building will be air-conditioned throughout for temperature and humidity control. It will be artificially lighted.

The first floor will contain a spacious lobby, with elevators and an escalator to the second floor exhibit areas. Administrative offices will also be on the second floor and a mezzanine gill space several staff offices. Staff workshops and the curator's office will be on the third floor. The basement will be used for storage and mechanical equipment. The building will contain 80,562 square feet of usable floor area.

The 1959 General Assembly appropriated $2,535,000 for construction. Bids are publicly advertised to be received by December 20.

NI Gas Plans General Office Bldg. At Aurora

Northern Illinois Gas Company announced Wednesday (November 30) that it will build a new building on a 112-acre site about five miles northeast of Aurora that will house most of the utility's general office functions.

Construction of a tri-level structure is scheduled to get underway next year with completion in 1963, according to Marvin Chandler, president of NI-Gas. Preliminary estimates indicate the cost will be about $2 million.

Located at the northeast corner of the East-West Tollway and Route 59 intersection, the new facilities will include space for about 700 NI-Gas general office employees now housed in separate buildings on company property in Aurora and Bellwood, as well as in rented properties.

NI-Gas also plans to install a new electronic billing and data processing system in the new building which will handle the accounting for the utility's more than 700,000 customers. Commenting on the proposed building plans, Chandler said, "For several years, NI-Gas has been handicapped by having its general office forces operating from several locations."

"The company's rapid growth has resulted in serious overcrowding of present quarters, making it necessary to rent outside space in the Aurora and Bellwood areas."

Chandler said that a study of this problem had been underway for some time. He emphasized that the new building would be completed last week.

The test road has been in constant use by trucks of various weights since Oct. 15, 1958. More than 17,000,000 miles of travel have been recorded. Basic purpose of the project is to determine the reaction of pavements of various thicknesses when subjected to known weight and traffic frequency.

Engineers expect to devote the next year to studying data obtained in the tests. When final conclusions are reported they will be used as a basis for future road construction throughout the nation.

The American Association of State Highway Officials sponsored the test in cooperation with all the states and various industries.

sized that having general office functions at one location "should greatly increase the over-all effectiveness of the company's operations." Time lost during the business day by employees traveling between present Aurora and Bellwood quarters will be eliminated, he declared.

Chandler commented that the new site is well situated geographically in the company's service area, which includes 301 communities in northern Illinois (outside Chicago).

Future plans provide for a part of the property to be used for a customer service center for the surrounding area.

Carl Sandburg FHA Hears Talk On Grooming

The Carl Sandburg Future Homemakers held their regular meeting at the school last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. DeLores Klocke, teacher in Guidance department and speech of the school, spoke before the group on the topic "Modeling and Personality Plus".

Plans were made to hold a demonstration party as a money making project. All interested persons are asked to contact the Home Economics department for information on plans and future projects within the department.

The group recently observed United Nations Week by dining at Karens Swedish Restaurant in McCook, Ill. Present at the dinner were 19 members of the FHA and sponsors Mrs. Cote and Mrs. Page of the department; Mrs. Brija, chapter mother elect and Miss Stevens, chapter teacher.

L-W Beats Sandburg 48-37 In Opener

THERE ARE NO FAT BASKETBALL PLAYERS and it is easy to understand why this is so after watching a game in progress. The two players in the air are Ron Yunker (dark suit) of Lincoln-Way and on a guess, W. Gorney (white suit) for Sandburg when the varsity fives clashed last week. No. 24 for Sandburg is T. LaVine and No. 54 is L. Roberts.

Lincoln Way Grapplers Divide With Sandburg

Lincoln-Way varsity wrestlers, according to forecasts, were picked as second best to Sandburg in the dual meet staged last Friday at the New Lenox school. But after the last match was over the forecasters were found to be wrong. Lincoln-Way won, 30 points to 20. The Sandburg frosh-soph won 34 to 18.

The summaries:
95 pounds Steve Smith, L-W, pinned Ken Clement, S, 3:24.
103 pounds - Cliff Cheekwood L-W pinned Jim Roberts S, 1:13.
112 pounds Robert Edmonson L-W pinned Ike Walston S, 3:50.
120 pounds Bill Nicholas S.; beat Tom Gumbel L-W 7-3.
127 pounds Tony Santerelli, L-W pinned Jim Semetis S, 2:40.
133 pounds Ron Semetis, S beat Bill Delaney, L-W, 5-0.

Knights Will Be Hosts To Oaks Basketball Outfit Tomorrow Night

BY BILL SLUIS

In their opening Southwest Suburban League encounter, the Lincoln-Way Knights beat the Carl Sandburg Eagles 47-38 last Friday night on the Eagles floor. Sandburg was able to hold on for three quarters, but the Knights got loose in the closing minutes and put the game away.

High scoring honors went to Skip Kruzich of Lincoln-Way, who garnered 19 points. Ron Cramer of L-W and Ron Lindgren of Sandburg tied for second with 13 each, and Lance Roberts of Sandburg was fourth with nine. Scoring was lower than usual because both teams showed stalwart defense.

Early in the first quarter Lincoln-Way momentarily fell behind 6-2, but the Knights were able to rally and held a 9-6 edge at the end of the frame.

Ron Cramer enabled the Knights to increase their lead in the second quarter by scoring nine points. Ron repeatedly sacked 20 and 30-footers. At the conclusion of the first half, Lincoln-Way led 23-16.

But the Eagles were not yet "on the ropes." They roared back at the opening of the third to take a momentary 26-25 lead on a 35-footer by Duane Erickson. But free tosses by Skip Kruzich and Duane Warning put the Knights back on top 27-26 with 2:55 remaining in the third period. From then on the Knights, who were paced by Skip Kruzich's 11 in the fourth quarter, added steadily to their margin. At the conclusion the Knights were 47-38 victors.

It was a tremendously hard-fought, aggressive type of game, with the accent being on defense.

In last year's SWS opening game at Sandburg the Eagles beat the Knights by one point. Sandburg went on to take the crown. This year the Knights won. Perhaps there is handwriting on the wall.

This week's game will take place tomorrow night with Oak Lawn. If last year's final game with Oak Lawn is any indication, the Knights should do pretty well. Game time at the Lincoln-Way gym is 8 o'clock.

Knights 9 14 8 16-47
Sandburg 6 10 12 10-38
High Scorers - Skip Kruzich 19; Ron Cramer 13; Duane Warning 8 (L-W) - Ron Lindgren 13; Lance Roberts 9 (C.S.).

New Policy Gives Better Protection

The village board at Frankfort has purchased a comprehensive, public liability and property damage insurance policy thru Herbert Lambrecht which covers the municipality in all parts of the village. Previously the liability policy covered the village only in the park and the village hall.

The policy covers all public places where the village might be involved in the event of accident, injury or property damage, including the new sewage treatment plant and grounds.

The policy is for $100,000 comprehensive; $300,000 public liability and $50,000 property damage. The total cost in premiums, which will be paid over a three year period, will be $1,141.93. The board also plans to take out a fire insurance policy on a portion of the sewer age treatment plant and such machinery that could be damaged by fire.

The board has moved to sell the remainder of the sewer and water revenue bonds, approximately $29,000 to complete the project, meet obligations that are expected to come due before revenue is available.

Persons on the north side of the village who have sewer connections available will be billed the minimum sewage treatment charge, which is $4.50, for the month of December. The bills will go out the first of January. When the gills go out in February they will all cover sewage charges.

Before contractors or individuals may open streets they will be required to fill out forms so the NI-Gas Co. can determine if any mains are involved.

COMING THRU, MR. GALLAGHER -- not thru here Mr. Shean. The Mr. Gallagher here is really D. Lajcin, one of the Lincoln-Way frosh-soph squad, in the battle last week with Sandburg high. The Mr. Shean has his number covered so further identification of the Sandburg player is impossible. No. 23 of the Sandburg squad is L. Elkins.

Eagles Swim Teams Prep For Reavis

Robert Grindey, Sandburg swimming coach, and his charges have been doing some considerable practice during the fall months in preparation for the coming pre-Christmas meets.

Some 110 boys applied for a spot on Grindey's teams. The final count wound up with 36 boys, 18 boys on each of the varsity and frosh teams. The first dual meet will be with Reavis on Dec. 13, at Sandburg.

The balance of the swim meets will be: Dec. 15--Argo at Home, 4 p.m. Dec. 17 -- Thornton Away, 1 p.m. Dec. 20 -- Bremen at Home, 4 p.m.

Considerable interest was shown by the parents and patrons of Sandburg at the last Sunday Board of Education Open house for the new pool, an addition to the school since last year.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa:

Please bring me a dredge and a Mr. Machine.

Your Friend
Alan Holm,
Mokena, Ill.

Dear Santa:

I have been very good and would like you to bring me a new bike, record player and radio.

Barbara Dean,
Frankfort, Ill.

Dear Santa:

I am going to make some special raisin tarts for you when you come to my house. I will have a little surprise for you; you'll find it under the butterfly chair.

Would you please leave me a three year old Heidi doll, a saucy Walker doll, another baby buggy, a Tiny Tears doll without real hair, a pair of ice skates (size 12 1/2 C), a Betsy McCall doll and a Toni doll.

Thank you,
Robin Chudy,
Lockport, Ill.

P. S. How are you and Mrs. Claus getting along in the cold? I'd just like five more things and that will be all; a pair of sparkly patent leather shoes for my small Revlon doll and some patent leather shoes for me too; a baby doll feeder, a dolly bottle warmer and a ballerna dollkins.

Dear Santa:

I want a road grader. I want a gun; not a rifle. A big dump truck like Grandma has. A rubber knife and an Indian set. I've been good.

Mickey Rechkemer,
New Lenox, Ill.

Dear Santa:

Mommy says I have been a pretty good boy and have helped her. I would like two puppets, Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck, a rifle, gun and holster and a tow truck. And if you have any surprise gifts for little boys
